New Programs

Effective immediately, PAP will begin enrolling eligible patients into four revised programs.

$750.00 Free Generic Program

Cardholders enrolled in this Program can obtain up to a maximum of $750 in generic medications based on the reimbursed amount versus the provider's submitted Usual and Customary charge.

Pfizer Medications

Cardholders enrolled in this Program can obtain up to a maximum of $3,000.00 of Pfizer medications, brand [and generic equivalents] for a $0.00 generic and a $15.00 brand copay. As with the $750.00 generic program, the $3,000.00 maximum is based on the reimbursed amount versus the provider's submitted Usual and Customary charge.

Diabetic Supplies

Cardholders enrolled in this Program can obtain up to a maximum of $300.00 in diabetic supplies for a $9.00 copay. All claims will receive a $4.00 dispensing fee.

$3,000.00 Medications

Cardholders enrolled in this Program can obtain up to a maximum of $3,000.00 of brand and/or generic medications for a $0.00 generic and a $15.00 brand copay.

The following rules apply to all PAP programs:

- The cardholder's remaining amount is returned in the Remaining Deductible Amount field (513-FD) in the response.
- The Program will pay for the claim that takes them to, or over, each program's maximum allowance based on the reimbursed amount versus the submitted Usual and Customary charge.
- Upon reaching the program's limit, future claims will deny with NCPDP Error 76—Plan Limitation Exceeded.
- All PACE rules and regulations apply including quantity, days' supply and ProDUR edits.
- The payment algorithm mirrors PACE: the lowest of U&C, AWP-12% or FUL plus a dispensing fee.

Cardholders accepted into PA PAP receive a white plastic card (see example) bearing the cardholder's name, copay amounts (if applicable) and information identifying the Program in which they are enrolled, i.e. $750.00 generic medications, Diabetic Supplies, $3,000.00 Pfizer medications or $3,000.00 medications. The PA PAP cardholder ID number is 9 characters and is accompanied by the Program's Rx BIN, PCN and Group identifiers.
