What is YouthBuild USA?

The Crispus Attucks YouthBuild Charter School located in York, Pennsylvania is currently associated with the national YouthBuild, USA program and the Bill and Melinda Gates

For almost 25 years, YouthBuild USA has galvanized the positive energy of unemployed young people to rebuild their own communities and their lives through work, education, responsibility, and family. Currently there are 200 YouthBuild programs across the country and 23 alternative charter schools nationwide. YouthBuild USA is a national nonprofit organization that supports a nationwide network. Since 1994, more than 25,000 YouthBuild USA, young people have helped rebuild their communities, transform their lives and create more than 10,000 units of affordable housing. Strong emphasis is placed on leadership development, community service and the creation of a positive mini-community of adults and youth committed to success.

A Historical Perspective - Crispus Attucks YouthBuild Charter School - York, PA

In 1996, The Crispus Attucks Association in York, Pennsylvania founded a new academic program for Youth who had dropped out of the traditional school. The Crispus Attucks YouthBuild Program began as a GED program for at risk youth between the ages of 17 — 24. This program was modeled after the first National YouthBuild USA program in Harlem New York. The objective of the program was to provide learners with an opportunity to acquire job related skills in the field of construction while simultaneously taking classes to earn a GED. The program offered GED classes one week and construction work the alternate week.

In 1999, the Crispus Attucks YouthBuild Program petitioned the York City School Board and Pennsylvania Department of Education for permission to evolve into the Crispus Attucks YouthBuild Charter School. In 2000, the school became a state approved alternative, public charter high school accessible to all York County youth between the ages of 17 and 21.

Since 2000, with the assistance of the school's strategic planning team we have strategically and artfully used our infrastructure to systemically cultivated a continuous learning climate that addresses quality teaching, quality leadership and student achievement. Students are encouraged to believe in effort based ability and enhance their resiliency skills. The Crispus Attucks YouthBuild Charter School has evolved into a quality school with a rigorous aligned curriculum where students with potential acquire the opportunity to earn their high school diploma and accessibility to post-secondary opportunities.

Executive Summary

The priority of the Crispus Attucks YouthBuild Charter School is Student Learning. The 2006-2009 Strategic Plan is based on the shared philosophy that all students will learn. The current plan was developed with active participation of the Crispus Attucks YouthBuild administrators, teachers, staff, parents, students, Board members, community leaders, and community representatives. The involvement of the many people enhanced the quality of this Strategic Plan. The committee used the framework established by the Pennsylvania Department of Education to facilitate an alignment of the six components of Pennsylvania's standards-aligned instructional system as defined through PDE's four lenses: quality teaching, quality leadership, artful use of infrastructure, and continuous learning ethics. These components established the foundation of our School's goals.

The 2006 -2009 Strategic Plan demonstrates the School's systemic approach to ensuring a coherent framework for all learners. Through consistent and pervasive practices, this plan will detail how Crispus Attucks YouthBuild Charter School will achieve Adequate Yearly Progress goals for all students. .

It is our purpose to provide instruction that will provide equitable post secondary opportunities for all Crispus Attucks YouthBuild students. The School is committed to this credence and will endeavor to meet and exceed the expectations laid out in our Strategic Plan. Academic Standards

Rigorous Instructional Program

Crispus Attucks YouthBuild Charter School's curriculum is aligned with the Pennsylvania Department of Education's academic standards, anchors and eligible content. The Anchors and eligible content guides the curriculum and the curriculum guides the lesson plans. The Charter School has adopted an instructional practice that addresses essential questions, higher order thinking skills, guided practice and effective instructional strategies as identified by the United States Department of Education (Marzano). Each course is coordinated and implemented in a manner designed to result in proficient or advance levels for all students. A copy of our Chapter 4, content standard -aligned curriculum is located in every teacher's classroom and in our Central office.

To continue to meet the developmental and academic needs of all students, we have identified five best practices strategies from www.bestevidence.org, to address our goals for the 2006 - 2007 school year.

Strategy # 1: Assessment anchors and eligible content were identified for each content area. We are focused on students learning.

Strategy # 2: We will use curriculum mapping to measure progress, identify challenges and make adjustments as needed.

Strategy # 3: We used periodic formative and summative benchmark assessments to predict AYP targets. Adjustments will be made to better match the learner's ability with the teacher's instructional practices.

Strategy # 4: Professional Learning Communities will continue to engage the staff in best practice' data dialogue meetings. Results will be tracked for gaps, strengths and feasible root causes.

Strategy #5: Teachers developed common assessment benchmark exams and standardized rubrics to gauge student's progress towards proficiency.

Special Education

The Crispus Attucks YouthBuild Charter School uses the Procedural Safeguard Notice and other Special Education mandated forms designated by PDE to identify and provide services to students with special needs. To address the developmental and academic needs of all students, the Charter school uses the full inclusion model and services through Lincoln Intermediate Unit 12. Our certified Special Educator and trained Para-professional, travel with designated class sections and co-teaches the lesson with the subject teacher. For those learners with Specific Design Instruction, the Charter School uses differentiated instructional strategies, scaffolding and previewing techniques to accelerate the student's learning curve.

ELL

The Crispus Attucks YouthBuild Charter School's ELL program meets the three part test mandated by federal law. All students are given the Home Language Survey. Based on the results from the survey, selected students were given the Woodcock Munoz Language Survey and the Hartcourt Educational Measurement assessments. The results from both exams are used to determine the appropriate level of instruction for the limited English language learners. The assessments reflect the Code of Fair Testing Practices in Education.

Graduation Requirements

All Crispus Attucks YouthBuild Charter School students must adhere to the following requirements prior to earning the right to receive a high school diploma:

- All students must successfully complete all courses with an average of 70% or above in each course.
- 2) All students must successfully complete the Senior Technology portfolio and culminating project. The purpose of the project is to assure that students are able to apply, analyze, synthesize and evaluate information and communicate significant knowledge and understanding.
- 3) All students must demonstrate adequate yearly progress in reading and math, as indicated by two years of grade level growth from the State approved formative assessment.

Strengths and Challenges

Strengths:

Concern	Strengths	Challenges	Comments
C	X		Most Staff and Students feel there is an efficacious, collaborative school culture.
		X	Some students indicated the curriculum was not challenging enough. Perhaps we could look into leverage resources with York City so that qualified students can participate in the dual enrollment program.
	X		Crispus Attucks YouthBuild Charter School is a small learning community based program. 83% of our staff are Highly Qualified. All students have equal access to every Educator at our school. The students who have been identified as "at risk" have two Educators per classroom.
	X		Our School uses a site based system to collect, analyze and disseminate data efficiently and expeditiously for use by the school data team.
C	X		Results from formative assessments and benchmark exams are share regularly with the staff during the bi weekly data dialogue meetings and quarterly with the parents and students. Students are kept abreast of their weekly course averages. The community is kept informed of the schools results via a monthly disseminated newsletter.
C	X		The CAYBCS staff participate in weekly Professional Learning community meetings every Wednesday from 3:00 pm to 4:30 pm . The sole purpose of these weekly meetings is to examine student work and assess the fidelity of instructional practice.
	X		In addition to collaborating with local University services, the Crispus Attucks YouthBuild Charter School has subcontracted with one of the State's trained Distinguished Educator to provide technical assistance to facilitate school based improvement planning efforts and support the successful implementation of those improvement plans.
	X		Crispus Attucks YouthBuild Charter School is a small school with a total of 6 teachers. Our data indicates our Educators have more years teaching experience than other Educators in Pennsylvania.
		X	The data from these documents indicate an decrease in

			enrollment for African American students. This is a root cause that is worthy of extensive dialogue. We discovered because there are a limited amount of slots for our Charter School and with the recent increase of enrollments from other York County students, the available slots were divided equally amongst all applicants.
C		X	The teaching staff needs to identify best practice strategies for ALL students in math and monitor the progress of the Latino Subgroup. Perhaps review the fiction and non-fiction text to ensure students are reading a diverse selection of high interest novels where their culture is reflected.
C		X	Looking at the table titled CAYBCS TEST results by subgroup and gender....several concerns became apparent: 1) The Latino female did not show significant gains in math or reading. Their scores actually decreased. 2) Why did the white males and females demonstrate more gains in math than any other gender/subgroup?

SECTION II. STRATEGIC IMPROVEMENT PLANNING

Strategic Planning Process

A Clear Goal: THE FOCUS IS ON STUDENT LEARNING

The strategic planning process generated discussions around shifting from focusing on teaching to focusing on student learning. The committee used the "Getting Results Template" designed for Pennsylvania School Districts to address the following components as it relates to student learning.

This strategic plan is our roadmap for a coordinated, systemic effort emphasizing comprehensive instructional practices that will make a real difference. This blue print emphasizes accountability for every student, teacher, administrator, staff member, parent, and the rest of our entire community of learners. It will be implemented with fidelity with the School's enduring commitment to STUDENTS FIRST.

SECTION III. QUALITY OF SCHOOL DESIGN

Rigorous Instructional Program

During the 2005-2006 school year, the Crispus Attucks YouthBuild Charter School used a targets curriculum aligned with PA Academic Standards and Assessment anchors to meet academic targets. .

Crispus Attucks YouthBuild Charter School's curriculum is aligned with the Pennsylvania Department of Education's academic standards, anchors and eligible content. The Anchors and eligible content guides the curriculum and the curriculum guides the lesson plans. The Charter School has adopted an instructional practice that addresses essential questions, higher order thinking skills, guided practice and effective instructional strategies as identified by the United States Department of Education (Marzano). Strategy # 4: Professional Learning Communities will continue to engage the staff in best practice' data dialogue meetings. Results will be tracked for gaps, strengths and feasible root causes.

Strategy #5: Teachers developed common assessment benchmark exams and standardized rubrics to gauge student's progress towards proficiency.

In addition, we continued monitoring the use of our adopted instructional procedures to ensure adequate growth for each student.

The CAYBCS instructional model is designed to help students become self-directed learners through active inquiry. The lessons are designed to assist students in linking prior knowledge, life experiences and external events to new information. Individual student progress is monitored and Teacher lesson plans are adjusted to meet the learner's needs.

To accelerate academic skill development, content knowledge and learning strategies of students performing below standards in reading, CAYBCS has implemented Project Read/Language Circle Balanced Reading Strategies. One on one tutoring was delivered to students who did not fair well in math.

The following teaching strategies were used to actively engage students in the learning process.

- During the 2005-2006 school year, the CAYBCS continued with the constructivist problem based learning strategies.
- To encourage students to use higher order thinking skill, teachers replaced objectives with Essential Questions.
- Teachers framed tasks around cognitive activates such as analysis, interpretation, and prediction to foster construction of new meanings.
- Students were provided additional wait time to construct mew meanings and develop their prior knowledge.
- Teachers used graphic organizers to encourage students to write about their own understanding of concepts prior to teaching the desire skills
- Teachers spent more time in developing vocabulary in context via graphic organizer

English Language Learners

The Crispus Attucks YouthBuild Charter School's ELL program meets the three part test mandated by federal law. All students are given the Home Language Survey. Based on the results from the survey, selected students were given the Woodcock Munoz Language Survey and the Hartcourt Educational Measurement assessments. The results from both exams are used to determine the appropriate level of instruction for the limited English language learners. The assessments is based on sound educational and language learning theory, implemented with sufficient resources, staffed by appropriately prepared personnel and periodically evaluated. The students in our ELL program are learners whose primary language is not English.

Student Assessment

Our local state approved standardized assessment is used as a diagnostic toll and a benchmark assessment for incoming Charter School students. The results from the school year 2006 - 2007 standardized Gates McGinitie assessment indicated growth for all graduates. CAYBCS students demonstrated more growth in reading than math. Current data indicates not all subgroups demonstrated adequate growth in math. These results has led the school to implement intensive math acceleration tutoring sessions and data dialogue meetings. Staff will be trained in analyzing data to make informed decisions and adjust instructional practices.

There are many strategies in place to ensure all students are making adequate yearly progress. Students take the Gates McGinitie Diagnostic Exam at the beginning, mid-term, and end of the year. The results of this test are shared with the students and parents in mandatory conferences. Communication with students, parents or guardians is made throughout the year via conferences, phone calls, home visits, and or email. Any student at risk are encouraged to attend tutorial sessions and seek resiliency assistance from their case manager.

Teacher Evaluation

The Crispus Attucks YouthBuild Charter School uses PDE 426, PDE 427 and the PDE 428 to evaluate teachers. Our primary concern is "Are the students learning?" and "What does the data say?"

The main features of the school's teacher evaluation plan are:

- 1) Category I - Planning and Preparation
- 2) Category II - Classroom Environment
- 3) Category III - Instructional Delivery
- 4) Category IV - Professionalism
- 5) Category V - Student progress

The individual responsible for teacher evaluations was Mr. Michael Goc. Mr. Goc is a certified PA K-12 Principal. He conducted formal and informal teacher observations, provided feedback and recommended strategies to improve student performances.

Mr. Goc received training from Youtbuild USA and the Association of Supervision and Curriculum professional development organization. This past year the staff participated in the Examining Student Work - workshop. This workshop built upon last year's training focused on "Constructivism" One of the long term goals of CAYBCS is to foster a constructivist teaching philosophy and Profession Learning Community where the students will be encouraged to learn to think for themselves and not wait for the teacher to tell them what to think. We believe knowledge is not universal, objective, or fixed, but rather constructed or co-constructed by learners.

Teachers are encouraged to use planning to collaborate with the Special Education Teacher to map out the curriculum so that previewing and acceleration instructional techniques can assist the learners demonstrating academic proficiency. The planning periods are inextricably linked to staff development that will lead to student achievement.
