Historic resources listed in the National Register of Historic Places are denoted on a CRGIS map by the color blue. Individual resources, such as buildings and objects may be symbolized by a blue triangle, while a larger resource, such as a historic district, will be symbolized by a blue-bordered polygon. When a National Register listed resource is seen on a map, click on it; a CRGIS Reports window like the one below will open.

The screenshot shows a web browser window titled "CRGIS Reports - Windows Internet Explorer". The page has a blue header with the CRGIS logo and a "Print" button. The main content area is titled "Historic Resource Information" and contains several sections:

- Identification: Key #: 140737; Property Name: Budd, Edward G. Manufacturing Company; The Budd Company; Resource Type: Building
- Location: Philadelphia: Philadelphia City; Address: 2450 Hunting Park Ave.
- Status: NR Status: Listed; Contributes: Undetermined
- Historic Information: Year Built: 1917,1988; Alterations/Additions: 1952
- Physical Description: Style: Other
- Links: Map: H140737_03A.pdf; Map: H140737_02A.pdf; Photograph: H140737_06B.jpg; Photograph: H140737_05B.jpg; Photograph: H140737_04B.jpg; NR Form: H140737_01H.pdf
- + Comments: No Data Present

The browser's status bar at the bottom shows "Done", "Local intranet | Protected Mode: Off", and a zoom level of "100%".

National Register nomination forms are scanned and uploaded to the CRGIS, and will appear in the "Links" section of the report window. Click on the appropriate link to see the nomination form, photographs of the resource, a site plan/district map, a USGS Topographic Map showing the resource's location, or an inventory (for districts and large complexes). National Register forms are in .pdf format, and photographs are in .jpg format. Both can be downloaded from the CRGIS.

- Finding a National Register Nomination using Ask ReGIS

NOTE: for information on how to use the Ask ReGIS search tool, refer to the Ask ReGIS Tutorial at <http://www.portal.state.pa.us/portal/server.pt/community/crgis/3802/tutorial/418407>.

For the purpose of this tutorial, search for the National Register listed Austin Dam, in Potter County.

Once the Ask ReGIS search tool has been opened, click the circular button next to “Counties/Municipalities,” in the section titled Where. Note that the default Search Type is “Historic Resources”.

After clicking on the button, a “Counties” box will appear. Scroll down until you see “Potter,” and then click on it.

After clicking on the county name, a box containing Potter County's municipalities will appear. Find "Austin Borough" in the list, and click on it. In the future, if you do not know which municipality the resource that you are looking for is in, simply leave the default "All Municipalities" highlighted.

In the section titled Additional Criteria (Basic), select "National Register Status" from the drop down list. Next, select "Listed" from the drop down list to the right. Click "Add to Query" button. Notice that as search criteria are added to the query, they will populate the Search Description section at the bottom of the Ask ReGIS window. When done, click the "Search" button. The screen will soon refresh with the search results.

The Ask ReGIS search results show 1 National Register listed resource in Austin Borough, Potter County; the Austin Dam. Click on the purple “information” button to open a CRGIS Report window.

National Register nomination forms are scanned and uploaded to the CRGIS, and will appear in the “Links” section of the report window. Click on the appropriate link to see the nomination form, photographs of the resource, a site plan/district map, a USGS Topographic Map showing the resource’s location, or an inventory (for districts and large complexes). National Register forms are in .pdf format, and photographs are in .jpg format. Both can be downloaded from the CRGIS.
