

Just Looks Tough

I had the pleasure of accompanying WCO Mike Greiner on patrol on the first day of small-game season in his district in western Greene County. Mike is a relatively new officer who also is a fellow Army veteran (he's still in the National Guard). His uniform is always impeccable and he has a strong military bearing. Mike also takes great pride in being physically fit, which he won an award for at the Ross Leffler School of Conservation. As we patrolled in his vehicle, I kept catching a faint odor of women's perfume, which I thought was odd. Eventually I found the source—an air freshener called “Pink Sand Aroma.”

Fooled 'Em

BUTLER—I was using a ring-necked pheasant decoy for road hunting violations on SGL 95 during the small-game season when I noticed the fake had gathered a harem of hens around it.

Great American Cleanup

FOREST—During the Great American Cleanup of PA, which is from March 1 to May 31, registered events can get free clean-up supplies, such as bags, gloves and vests donated by PennDOT and Keep America Beautiful. Additionally, during the Pick It Up PA Days from April 12 to May 5, sponsored by the Department of Environmental Protection, Pennsylvania Waste Industries Association, and participating landfills, registered events have access to free disposal. Community and civic associations, schools and youth groups, families and friends, business employees, hunting and fishing clubs, conservation organizations, sports teams, and others can organize their members and participate in the Great American Cleanup of PA. ### Birds of a Feather

SOMERSET—I was helping one of our game lands crews stock pheasants when we loaded crates from the crew's dump truck onto my patrol vehicle. When we returned to the dump truck after unloading a few crates, one of the pheasants was sitting atop a bed rail on the dump truck. After finding no open crates, we figured it was lonely and came back to find its mates.
