My parents taught me that donating blood regularly is as important as voting.

I am passing that value on to my kids.

